Hello, I work for a Catholic church in Northern Virginia. One of our community partners is the Arlington Free Clinic, which determines its patients through a monthly lottery because it cannot meet all demands. Clearly, there is a need among low-income Virginians for affordable medical services. Expanding Medicaid in Virginia would help to meet this need. I fully support the expansion and encourage our state government to embrace and implement it. Not doing so would be a disgraceful act of cruelty toward vulnerable people in our state.
