Medicaid should be expanded because people who don't have insurance are going to the hospital when they shouldn't have to. People should be able to get medicaid despite their circumstances. Without having medicaid, people are either at a loss without insurance and becoming sick or going to the ER and having to wait hours to be seen by someone. By having the insurance in place, families can choose their specialist and be able to be seen without all the waiting and be seen when need to.
