Dear Medicaid Innovation and Reform Commission,

In all seriousness, the government is supposed to help people. There is so much waste that happens in the meantime.

Let's spend some of our tax money helping those who need healthcare- seems to me like a far better use of my money than, for example, paying certain government officials. Studies have shown that more access to healthcare will make everyone a little but healthier. (Do you want the person making your food to not be able to afford to get treatment if they are sick? I certainly don't!)

Sincerely,

BA Ciccolella
