First Name - Donna

Last Name - Hamilton

Organization Name - Virginians for Quality Healthcare

Comment - Estimates are that 50-75% of the proposed expansion population currently have private insurance, typically through their employer. Expansion would move these people from a plan with better access and better outcomes to Medicaid, which has demonstrably poorer outcomes, fewer providers, longer waits, and hence less access. It is a bad idea for Virginia in this and many other ways. See this study: [REDACTED]
