Comment - Please expand Medicaid in Virginia for all the hard working people like me who just don't make enough money to afford insurance. I will be 49 in November and haven't had a real physical exam in two decades. I have been plagued with terrible stomach problems (possibly my gall bladder) off and on for over five years and have been afraid to have it checked properly, as I would be ruined financially with only one large doctor bill. I, like many hard working Virginians, live paycheck to paycheck. I worry about what would happen if I became very sick. I also worry that any serious illness that could come my way, could've been prevented with routine check ups. How tragic would that be for my family and many others? Please find it in your humanity to help those of us who work hard every day. Sincerely, Elizabeth Austin Elizabeth Austin
