Comment - It is not a good or financially responsible proposal. I have read the explanation of the federal government paying for the expansion of Medicaid, if you believe that the federal government will pay for an extended time, I have a gold bridge over the James River that the state should buy. this entire proposal is full of holes. The fraud in the system will be determined by the honor system. Is this any way to run a state government. Who is the money to pay for the expansion? you guessed it, the taxpayer. This proposal encourages citizens to do less to get more. Are we completely crazy to consider something run on the honor system that we cannot afford?
