Comment - Obamacare is not good for the country and will fail so that the liberals and Obama can get what they want Socialized Healthcare run by the government. Just with the problems the website is having tells us that having the government involved in healthcare is a big mistake. All they had to do is open the market so that the insurance companies could sell in all states and prices would to down. Have clinics set up to cover the uninsured and require insures to cover people with pre-existing conditions. Get the pharmaceutical companies out of doctors offices and let doctors treat their patients. Pharmaceutical push their products and give physicians perks to prescribe them when other treatments (non-drug) can work. Stop pharmaceutical companies from lobbying congress and pushing for their drugs to be approved. Stop congress from be able to invest in these companies. Government has become to involved in everything we do. Let us make our health decisions with our physicians. Stop pushing flu shots and other vaccines. This should be my choice if I want a flu shot - not the government.
