Comment - I am feeling a great deal of confusion. Why in the world would Virginia not expand Medicaid to insure that the poorest citizens of the Commonwealth have access to health care. It ends up costing all tax payer more when the only option to health care is provided by the emergency rooms at all the local hospitals. A family of 4 making $32,000 a year can hardly buy food. They certainly can't afford health insurance and you know that the companies paying the low wages are not providing the benefits. Do the Right Thing! Bridge the coverage gap!
