Comment - This should absolutely be done. I been told by a surgeon 3 yrs ago that my neck is in terrible shape and that I need surgery badly,however my app for ssi/disability was denied.So now my condition has worsened I cant work according to surgeon and neurologists and since state denied my ssi/disabilty I cant get medicade. So I am stuck cant pay for surgery lawyer cant help me with getting ssi without updated medical information which I cant get without a visit to doctor which I cant afford. This is a cycle keeps going round and round while I am in pain unable to help my husband support ourselves etc.
