Comment - Expanding Medicaid in Virginia would provide care - paid for with 100% federal money thru 2016, and 90% federal money thereafter - for the 400,000 Virginians who cannot afford to buy their own health insurance on the new Healthcare.gov Marketplace. That 400,000 includes working parents and veterans. It's the right thing to do, and it will save money, and lives, for the Commonwealth and its citizens. Healthy people = healthy economy.
