It is inhumane not to provide affordable healthcare to all Virginians and all American citizens. I believe it should be done in whatever manner necessary. The most economically feasible way to provide healthcare to all would be Single Payer. As taxpayers we are currently paying more for the uninsured than if everyone were insured. All of the civilized countries of the world provide healthcare to all and some if not all have better healthcare than the US. Until Single Payer happens, VA Medicaid Expansion definitely should be done.
