Comment - Hello Commission Members, I have been able to attend one of your meetings and have read through presentations that are on your website. I could go on for a long time concerning the conflicting logic that has been given as "expert testimony", but I will not. It boils down to this; accepting money from the federal government always comes with strings attached. Virginia is already strung up enough with housing, transportation, education and previous health care subsidies that diminish the power Virginia, specifically the General Assembly, has to make decisions best for our Commonwealth. I believe we can continue to take care of our own without more strings around us that will come if you choose to accept the extra money offered to expand Medicaid in Virginia. Please do not do it. Thank you
