Serious folks, government has no fresh ideas. Privatization of the health care field bringing COMPETITION is the only solution.

Medicaid has 24% of Virginia doctors denying to see Medicaid patients. According to a University of Virginia study, a Medicaid patient is twice as likely to die from complications of surgery.

The extra cost of $1.3 billion be another strain on our fragile economy. How about getting out of our lives and let the markets regulate our commerce? Foreign concept? It worked in the past. Maybe that is why our competitors are having success.
