Comment - I believe that we would be foolish not to participate in Medicaid Expansion. The Affordable Care Act is being implemented, and Virginia should ensure that we are able to reap all the available savings and benefits, instead of refusing to acknowledge the reality of its implementation, and ending up in a position that harms our safety net hospitals, and low-income families and children that would benefit greatly from access to healthcare. I've lived in the Commonwealth my whole life, and am a proud Virginian, and I hope the decision to participate is made; it would make me even more proud to see Virginia set an example for cooperation in this divisive time.
