Comment - Expanding Medicaid in Virginia is the right thing to do, morally and economically. @400,000 more Virginians would receive health care. It's 100% federally funded for the first 3 years, gradually reducing to a minimum of (0% federally funded. If Virginia doesn't expand Medicaid, then our tax dollars will be going to the states who do. There will be millions of added dollars in Virginia's economy, as well as the potential for thousands of jobs created. This is a no-brainer!
