Comment - The way the system is set up if I don't get Medicaid I am not eligible for coverage. I am on Social Security now and have 9 months to go til I qualify for Medicare. I need this time covered. I am currently paying for a high deductible private insurance policy that takes a big bite out of my earnings. I don't see why I am being left out of this when the Fed is covering the cost to the state. Seems like politicians pushing their own private agendas before the well being of the citizens. Thank you.
