Comment - As a person of faith and a career military officer, I believe that caring for our neighbors means ensuring that all Virginians, and all Americans, have access to quality and affordable health care. Expanding eligibility for Medicaid is not only a sound policy decision, but a moral imperative. Medicaid Expansion would cover 400,000 currently uninsured, low-income Virginians who are one health crisis away from financial ruin. I received excellent medical care while I was in the military, and I believe all Americans (and all Virginians) deserve the same.
