As the father of an adult son suffering with serious mental illness, I wholeheartedly encourage the MIRC to support Medicaid expansion in Virginia. Availing healthcare to the Commonwealth's 400,000 low income adults and their children is simply the right thing to do. In addition, Medicaid expansion will direct Virginians' Federal tax dollars back to Virginia. It's time to put partisan politics aside and do what morals, ethics, and common sense dictate--expand Medicaid in Virginia. Sincerely, Gary A Ambrose, Fairfax County
