I would urge the General Assembly and the Governor to approve the expansion of Medicaid in our state.

All Virginians, regardless of race or economic circumstances, have a right to quality affordable health care. The Medicaid Expansion would cover 400,000 Virginians who are most vulnerable to financial ruin in case of a health emergency. The state government has a moral responsibility toward these people as a matter of public policy. We citizens of faith see this as a moral imperative.

The health results, and the jobs created thereby, will be to the lasting benefit of the Commonwealth. My family and I urge affirmative approval.
