Comment - As a person of faith and a citizen who cares about the common good of our society, I urge the commission to expand Medicaid benefits in the state of Virginia. We need to support our most vulnerable populations and make sure they have access to doctors, health education and medical procedures. In the past, Virginia has not been very generous with Medicaid support, especially for the working poor. We need to accept federal money for this expansion and we will also benefit from the growth of health care jobs in the Commonwealth as well. Please expand Medicaid.
