Comment - It would be nice as free citizens to have as many options as are available, and for a State with such a long distinguished history as Virginia to govern with such little regard to the freedom of it's citizens is, rather embarrassing. One can easily choose to opt out of the Affordable Care Act by paying a small penalty. One should just as easily choose to opt in, and should have the full cooperation of my State Government in doing so. This is why I support the inclusion of Virginia in accepting the Federal Medicaid funding.
