Comment - Why would u even consider expanding medicade when it is already being extreemly taken advantage of.You have taken away all responsibility of parents nursing their children and them selves back to health. It's much easier to take them to the ER for colds , sore throats , minor aches and pains instead of going to DR. for meds. Drug addicts do the same for a convient fix.DR's should evaluate conditions before ordering all the expensive tests.If it is determined not an emergency , then send them home with advice to see a DR.
