Comment - Absolutely not - do not expand Medicaid in VA. Unfortunatley our seniors are being misled and do not see or understand the big picture. Expansion would be throwing dollars at a system that is currently broken. The expansion would only hurt the doctor/patient relationship and make the death panels allowed in Obamacare the final decision makers on what medical services our seniors would be provided. That decision should the between the doctor and the patient, not a group of individuals paid by our government.
