

One word: Flexible. Who knows how much care will really cost in coming years. We want universal coverage, and to get it, we need help for those with the lowest incomes. Provide the assistance now, but do so in a way to protect the budget from the political truism: once given, never taken away.

Harrisonburg, VA