Virginia should climb out from under the conservative rock and do the right thing by accepting the Federal aid and learning to live with The AFFORDABLE Care Act. The top ten developed countries in the World have some form of centralized medicine....We do not and boy do we pay in high costs and lower outcomes. Insurance companies in our present system are the "death panels" and their lobbyist sell fear and control campaign pocketbooks.

Our next goal should be the REAL money savers: single payer and negotiated drug prices.
